Developer Going for Gold on Boca Office Project

LFC Development began construction on Phase II of its Lynn Financial Center project in Boca Raton. The project was designed by RLC Architects. The developer anticipates completion by first quarter 2009.

The project will offer twin three-story buildings of 61, 941 sq ft each, for a total of 123,882 sq ft of Class "A" office space.

The buildings are the city's first commercial office project to be pre-certified LEED. The project has been designed and pre-registered as a LEEDGold-certified project.
